

MDR for Microsoft

Businesses today are under relentless pressure to keep pace with a dynamic and increasingly complex threat landscape. Attack volumes are rising, adversaries are deploying advanced tactics, and AI-driven attacks are becoming the norm. It's harder than ever for security teams to defend against targeted threats.

Kudelski Security's MDR for Microsoft service directly addresses these challenges by extending your security defenses and maximizing your Microsoft security investments.

Powered by our 24x7x365 Cyber Fusion Centers, we continuously detect, investigate, respond to, and remediate threats across Microsoft Sentinel, Defender XDR, and Defender for Cloud. Leveraging expert human oversight with Microsoft's advanced technology, we enhance your defenses, reduce risk, and accelerate response times. The result: a more proactive stance and greater confidence in your cybersecurity program.

Maximize your Microsoft security investment with 24x7x365 threat detection, investigation and response

A leading independent industry analyst and market research firm carried out a study on Kudelski Security's MDR service.

- 249% Return on Investment
- 68% Reduction in time to detect, investigate, and respond
- <6 months The breakeven point for outsourcing MDR to Kudelski Security

Over a three-year period. From Forrester Total Economic Impact™ Report on Kudelski Security's MDR, Dec 2023

EXTEND YOUR DEFENSE AND MAXIMIZE YOUR INVESTMENT

Your Microsoft security environment is a solid starting point. But with the support of our Cyber Fusion Center (CFC) analysts and our proprietary threat detection and response tools, platform, and advanced analytics, your security goes further. Operations are optimized and cyber resilience is reinforced.

1. Faster deployment and ROI

Our seamless integration with Defender XDR, including Microsoft Sentinel and Defender for cloud, ensures rapid deployment without complex SIEM setups. Time-to-value and ROI are improved.

2. Predictable Pricing

With pricing aligned to the number of endpoints rather than ingested data volume, you gain comprehensive security visibility and cost efficiency, allowing for scalable protection without unexpected costs.

3. Risk-focused detection and response

Prioritized, context-driven alerts powered by risk scoring enable effective investigation and proactive threat hunting to respond faster to real threats.

4. Enhanced collaboration and transparency

Acting as an extension of your security team, we provide 24/7 access to insights and metrics via our Client Portal, fostering a true partnership approach to threat detection and response.

5. Improved resilience and proactive security

Gain actionable guidance to harden your security posture, enabling a more proactive approach to managing risks and optimizing your security impact.
